Southeast Idaho nonprofits get a $412,000 boost

Idaho nonprofits got a big boost this holiday season thanks to the 12th annual Avenues for Hope Housing Challenge. The 2022 campaign raised nearly $2.7 million over 20 days, benefiting 90 Idaho nonprofits. The money will help organizations throughout the state that provide critical housing and supportive services to Idahoans in need.

In Southeast Idaho, 25 nonprofits raised $412,217 during the campaign. Aid For Friends Inc. raised $63,075, the most in the region. NeighborWorks Pocatello, with $53,616, and Habitat for Humanity of the Magic Valley, with $46,350, rounded out the top three in the region.

The campaign, organized by the Home Partnership Foundation and Idaho Housing and Finance Association, has raised $12.2 million since its inception in 2011.

"Thousands of donations to this year's Avenues for Hope campaign will help our state's network of housing support and shelter organizations address the critical needs of Idahoans all across the state," said Gerald M. Hunter, president of Idaho Housing and Finance. "A heartfelt thank you to all of our generous donors and sponsors who have helped make a difference this year."

Though the 2022 campaign is over, donations can still be made to support housing needs by visiting the Home Partnership Foundation's website.
